Extension's Successful Gardener is an award-winning horticulture program that features a magazine-quality newsletter, county workshops, regional seminars, monthly e-mail tips and more. The Learning Centers are a feature at garden shows across the state each spring and fall, an important marketing opportunity to showcase Cooperative Extension to nearly 200,000 people. The Learning Centers feature a plant discovery garden and horticulture information area where agents and Extension Master Gardeners answer questions. In-kind support for this show alone last spring was more than $20,000.
